

Forecasting and estimates

Meliá Hotels International, S.A. ("Meliá") warns that this broadcast may contain statements that can be identified with terms such as 'foresee', 'predict', 'anticipate', 'should', 'intend', 'probability', 'risk', 'objective', 'goal', 'estimate', 'future', and similar expressions. These forecasts and estimates may include, but are not limited to, statements regarding Meliá's future business development and economic performance. While we understand that these forecasts and estimates represent, in our opinion, possible future assumptions regarding the development of the business, actual results may differ significantly from our expectations.

Although Meliá believes that the expectations reflected in such a release are reasonable, investors and shareholders of Meliá are cautioned that the information and statements made are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties, many of which are difficult to predict and are generally beyond the control of Meliá, which could cause actual results and yields to differ substantially from those expressed during the course of the broadcast.

Statements about forecasts and estimates should be understood to have been made at the date of this broadcast and are based on the knowledge, information and opinions available at that date; such knowledge, information and opinions may change at any time. Meliá assumes no obligation to update or revise any forecasts or estimates, whether as a result of new information, future events or other situations.

It does not constitute an offer of securities

The information provided in this broadcast is subject to and should be read in conjunction with all available public information, including, where relevant, documents issued by Meliá with more detailed information. Any person who, at any time, acquires securities should do so solely on the basis of his or her own judgement as to the benefits and suitability of the securities for the achievement of his or her objectives and solely on the basis of public information, and after having received such professional or other advice as he or she considers necessary or appropriate in his or her circumstances, and not solely on the basis of the information provided in this broadcast. No investment activity should be undertaken solely on the basis of the information provided in this broadcast. By making this broadcast available to you, Meliá is not providing any advice or making any recommendation to buy, sell or any other type of negotiation on Meliá shares or on any other security or financial instrument.

Neither this broadcast nor the information provided therein constitutes an offer to sell or the request for an offer to purchase securities.

Past performance is not indicative of future results

Statements regarding historical performance or growth rates are not intended to imply that the future performance, price of the shares or results (including earnings per share) for any given period will necessarily match or exceed those of a prior period. Nothing in this broadcast should be interpreted as a profit forecast.

Information provided by third parties

With regard to the interventions at the General Shareholders' Meeting, by shareholders and the data provided by them, neither Meliá nor any of its directors, collaborators or employees, explicitly or implicitly, guarantees that these contents are exact or complete, nor does it undertake to keep them updated, or to correct them if any insufficiency, error or omission is detected in them. Furthermore, when reproducing these contents by any of the means at its disposal, Meliá may introduce any change it considers appropriate, as well as omit, partially or totally, any part of this broadcast, and in the event of any discrepancy, Meliá assumes no responsibility for it.
